

KIDNAPPING

Maidan Wardak Province, Afghanistan
October 10, 2012

CAITLAN CONNEMARA COLEMAN

Caitlan and her husband, Joshua Boyle

Aliases: Caity Coleman, Caity C. Coleman, Caity Coleman-Boyle, Caity Boyle, Caitlan Boyle

DESCRIPTION

Date(s) of Birth Used: November 2, 1985
Place of Birth: Titusville, Florida
Height: 5'5" (167 cm)
Weight: 150 pounds (68 kg)
NCIC: M330984554

Hair: Brown
Eyes: Brown
Sex: Female
Race: White
Citizenship: United States
Language: English, possibly Spanish

Scars and Marks: Coleman has a small birthmark approximately the size of a dime underneath her skin on her right or left wrist; the right nostril of her nose is pierced; and she possibly has acne scarring on her face.

Remarks: Coleman was approximately 6 to 7 months pregnant at the time of her capture. She suffers from autoimmune hepatitis, but was not taking medication.

DETAILS

Caitlan Connemara Coleman and her husband, Joshua Boyle, are alleged to have been kidnapped by Taliban militants in Afghanistan on or about October 10, 2012 while traveling through Maidan Wardak Province, Afghanistan. Coleman, Boyle and their child are likely being held somewhere within the Afghanistan/Pakistan region.

If you have any information concerning this case, please contact your local FBI office or the nearest American Embassy or Consulate. You may also submit a tip on the FBI's web site by visiting tips.fbi.gov.